

Local Food, Drink & Musical Experiences at Kytelers Inn, Kilkenny City Centre A Medieval Tavern since 1324. Day time & Evening Experiences.

Kytelers Inn is located in the heart of Kilkenny City, the medieval home of Dame Alice Kyteler, a suspected Witch! This original stone building was established in 1324 and pre-dates the USA as a country. Now serving as a pub and Tavern, the current family owners have kept true to using local produce and great fair for locals and visitors alike. Situated 6-minute walk from Kilkenny Castle along the Medieval Mile, Kytelers Inn is a necessary stop for visitors to replenish your energy and to enjoy a bit of local “craic” (fun) and traditional music in an authentic medieval setting.

Dame Alice’s story is one of witchcraft, heresy and murder. She was a wealthy business woman who had 4 husbands, 3 of whom died mysteriously. The fourth husband along with his sons accused her and her handmaids of poisoning him and declared she was a witch to the local bishop, Bishop Ledred. They spoke about Alice in The Vatican and decided she was to be burned at the stake in the then local square, but alas she escaped. Instead the head of her staff or coven was executed at the stake by fire in Kilkenny City. This was one of the first stories of witchcraft in Europe at the time. They say she fled to England and was never seen again, but ask the staff about that glass that fell out of nowhere or that door that shouldn’t be locked... they will tell you she’s still around!

In terms of food and drinks experience, today’s family owners of Kytelers Inn work closely with local suppliers, for example, local butcher Micheal Mullins has crafted the perfect “Banger”(sausage) that is made from pork reared in Kilkenny, using Guinness and Leek as ingredients. This is perfectly accompanied by local beer from Sullivan’s, the original family to brew beer in Kilkenny.

Visitors to Kytelers Inn are treated to local traditional music by top class performers in interactive experiences that keep their trip to Kilkenny fresh in their minds. Our great hall is filled with old banners from clans and suits of armour that our local story tellers can tell you about. Visitors will learn about how Kilkenny became known as “The Cats”, Alice’s history and about Kilkenny itself. So come in, take a seat for some local artisanal dinner, with local beer and lively music. Sure you might even have a dance too...!

3. Pour your own Pint in one of Ireland's oldest Medieval Inns!

You will be met by one of our experienced and friendly bar staff who will welcome you to their workplace, behind the bar, for a true Irish experience. Feel the tilt of the pint glass while you learn a skill passed down from generation to generation of barmen in Ireland. Option to pour your choice of Guinness or Kilkenny Draught.

Once behind the bar, the bar staff will personally walk you through the process and make sure the pour is as good as the taste. You may have seen it done before, but the pulling of a Guinness pint is an exact and careful science, so much so that pubs in Ireland each have their own Guinness reputation as serving the best pints of the 'black stuff'.

The pint pulling experience is a great Instagram post opportunity and can often lead to great "banter" and friendly competition.

A little history of Guinness: Adored since 1759, it's the powerful surge and settle that gives Guinness Draught beer its unique and long-standing popularity. Lovingly poured around the world, Guinness Draught is Ireland's best-selling beer. A unique mix of nitrogen and carbon dioxide helps create Guinness Draught's liquid swirl that tumbles, surges and gradually separates into a black body and smooth creamy head. The rise and fall of our bubbles has perplexed PhD physicists. Guinness Draught is best served at 4-6°C (that's 39.2-42.8°F) with the legendary two-part pour. But all you need to focus on is the taste. With an initial malt and caramel flavour, Guinness Draught finishes with a dry roasted bitterness.....Enjoy!

- Duration: 3 Minutes per person and time afterwards to enjoy pint.
- Price: €5.25 per person per pint.
- Min/Max Numbers per booking: 10 / 100 guests.
- Additional Drinks: Charged separately
